This Week's Learning

We have been learning all about our bodies and naming body parts. We have also learnt how to keep our bodies safe by using the NSPCC Pants rule. Stop, privates are private. Think, always remember your body belongs to you. No means no. Talk about secrets that upset you and tell, speak up someone can help.

Something Special

Miss Aime from Peterborough Regional College will be with us every Monday and Tuesday until April as she is studying for her Level 3 Early Years Qualification.

"When children have their buckets filled and learn how they can fill other people's buckets too, they understand how special, valuable, and capable they are." (Fill a bucket book by Carol McCloud and Katherine Martin. £5.99)

The bucket fills up by being a good friend, when they play and share toys, when they listen and help, when they say please and thank you, when they listen, when someone reads to them, when they say something nice about a friend, when they are being kind, when they help around the house, when they take care of a pet, when they are happy....the list goes on! The children will be coming home with more information and some slips to fill in at home. There will be a green bucket in the family cloakroom for you to put your child's completed slips in. You could also have a bucket at home and see that this is a great activity to do as a whole family – what will YOU do to fill your family bucket?

Bucket Filler Pledge

 I promise to do my best to be a bucket filler at school. at home and everywhere  go!
