This Week's Learning

We have been learning all about penguins! We have looked at National Penguin Day, National Hugging Day through our story, Cuddly Duddly and we have measured the sizes of penguins. As it was National Measure Your Feet Day, we compared our foot measurements. On Friday we had National Compliment Day, which also linked into our story, and we shared what we liked about each other.

Something Special

For those children who have shoes with laces, they are a real hazard both for themselves and each other. Brambles would rather children not have shoes with laces even though Clarks sell boots with zips and laces.

Something you can do together is learn how to tie shoe laces.
