This Week's Learning

We have been learning all about doing something nice and how we can bring joy to other people through our story this week, 'Immi's Gift.'

Something Special

At home why not start next month with leaving a little note on your child's bedroom door with a little message about what you think is great about your child.

You could acknowledge kind things they do around the house, that they are a great sister/brother or just qualities you love about them. We'll be doing this at Brambles starting next month too!
