Dandelions

Home Learning: Why not enjoy a family walk and look for dandelions along the way? What will your little one wish for we wonder?

Sincerely,

Brambles Team

Learning Goals:

Topic: 'Spring' Main Text:

Our learning this week taught us about the lifecycle of the dandelion. We have learnt that the individual seeds on a puff ball blow off and grow in the ground. Then they germinate and bud, begin to form stems and grown before the yellow flowers grow and insects use them to pollinate. We discovered that a seed develops on each floret on the yellow flower and over the course of a week the flower turns into a puff ball of seeds. The cycle then starts all over again.

The children enjoyed using their blowing skills with the bubble solution outside and using forks and cotton buds to create their own dandelions and puff balls.
