Headteacher's notes...

We have observed the silence for Remembrance today and three children went with myself and Emma Spencer, our Chair of Governors, to RAF Wyton where we took part in a short service. Thank you for all the donations you have made this week – we will let you know how much we have raised as soon as we can.

Our sporting success continued on Tuesday when a number of children from KS2 took part in the Hunts School Sports Partnership Panathlon Festival and came first! Congratulations to all of them and they were so proud of their medals when they returned. Thank you to all those who went and supported.

We had visitors from another school earlier this week and they were very positive about what they saw, especially how well the children were behaving and learning in their classrooms. Governors were also impressed with the quality of writing they observed from all year groups. We have finished the week with the PTA Bingo and the Mexicolore workshop for Year 6 which they have had as part of their topic on the Ancient Maya and which has been really successful again.

Anti-Bullying Week

Next week is Anti-Bullying week and the children will be taking part in Assemblies and lessons to do with this year's theme which is 'Reach Out'. This encourages everyone to talk to someone if they have a concern or worry, either themselves or their friends. To start the week we will once again be having our 'Odd Socks Day' on Monday 14th November.

A guide on how to deal with online bullying has been sent home today with this Newsletter. Please take time to read this as we know that many children are using social media and are often affected by comments made by others.

Governor's Open Afternoon

Thank you to those parents who met with Governors last week. Those who wanted individual replies to questions, these will be sent out early next week.

BBC Children In Need

We will be taking part in this year's BBC Children In Need on Friday 18th November. This is a non-uniform day and our theme is 'spots'. We have set up a Just Giving Page which can be accessed by clicking on
