This Week's Learning

This week the book 'Doctor Daisy' has helped us learn all about the role of the doctor and how they help us feel better. We have made stethoscopes and learnt what they are used for. We have used our number skills to count as we cut the doctor puzzle and then reordered it. We have enjoyed the outside role play being a doctor's surgery: using the telephone, writing messages, taking on the role of doctor and turning an old box into an ambulance.

Something Special

As busy parents alongside the children's busy schedules, sometimes it can be very difficult to fit some quiet time in, especially when you have more than one child to have that 1:1 time with. This is a quick fun five minutes treat that you can spend with your child (however old they are) by using a 'fun size' packet or make more time by using a personal sized or family sized packet of M&Ms for some family fun!

Directions: Find a quite time in the day when you are free from all distractions. Open your M&M packet and without looking, take turns to take a sweet from the bag. Look on the list for the corresponding colour sweet you have in your hand and ask the other person that question.

More magical moments: Change the questions to relate to questions you would like your child to share with you. Extend this activity to 'My family time & Me moment' and have a family sized pack of M&Ms and use as a way to chat to each other!
