This Week's Learning

Using the Tabby McTat story book, we have been learning all about instruments, the names of them and the different sounds they make. We have also made our own instruments on the art table, and in the role play area outside we had our own music studio.

Something Special

Why not have a try at making your own instruments at home? Using items from the recycling bin you can easily make instruments for free.

We would love to see what instruments you create at home. Why not email a photo of your child and their instrument. Maybe think of a new name for it. Talk about the different sounds it can make.
